Study in Austria

Austria, in the heart of Europe, combines small size with an exceptional range of opportunities. Here you can find peace and a unique quality of life, beautiful nature as well as big city flair and a rich culture.

Austrian higher education institutions offer an ever-growing number of degree programmes: you can choose between first-class research-based courses, a world-famous education at any of the universities of the arts, high-quality practice-oriented degree courses at the universities of applied sciences and rigorous academic training with modern methodologies and innovative courses at private universities.

All in all, Austria offers you a broad spectrum of educational opportunities – not to mention high levels of social security, economic stability and the great hospitality of the Austrians. These qualities make Austria an ideal place for studying and living!
